Weekly Snap shot

This season, our students have been busy creating, crafting, and learning real-life skills through a variety of exciting hands-on projects! From making cozy pom pom mats and knotted blankets, to learning basic stitches with felt sewing, creativity has been blooming in every corner. Our young chefs whipped up delicious treats in cooking sessions, explored healthy eating through the grocery game, and even got their hands dirty in our gardening activities. Plus, students built confidence and care by assembling their own first aid kits. It's been a wonderful way to blend fun with life skills, teamwork, and personal growth!
